ILLINOIS SETS NATIONAL PACE IN HARD ROADS

Illinois has one-sixth of all the concrete highways in the United States.

Illinois has concrete highways equal to double the mileage in the State of Pennsylvania—its nearest competitor.

Illinois has concrete highways practically equalling the combined mileage of this type of roads in the States of New York, California, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Concrete is the leading material in use in all of the states in the union in the construction of hard roads. It makes for permanency. Illinois has 5,901.31 miles of hard roads. Of this total 5,466.77 miles are concrete.

Double Mileage Nearest Competitor

According to statistics just compiled by the American Association of State Highway Officials the mileage of concrete highways in the state of Illinois is equal to one-sixth of this type of roads in the United States.

Pennsylvania is credited as the second state in the union in the building of concrete roads, with 2,220 miles of this type. Other states listed show the following mileage:

California	1,587
New York	1,458
Michigan	1,363
Wisconsin	1,353

With 5,466.77 miles of concrete highways credited to the state of Illinois, as compared to 2,220 in Pennsylvania, Illinois would be able to double the present mileage of her sister state without taking into consideration the mileage in Cook, Iroquois, Vermilion and Champaign counties, the four leading counties in the state in hard road mileage.

Fourteen Counties Exceed Mileage

Under the present mileage Illinois would be able from fourteen counties to more than duplicate the concrete highways of Pennsylvania leaving the highways of the remaining eighty-eight counties out of the consideration. The fourteen counties having a combined mileage greater than the entire state of Pennsylvania are:

Cook	458.35
Iroquois	214.37
Vermilion	211.01
Champaign	201.62
Lake	152.57
Will	150.48
McLean	132.50
LaSalle	116.01
Sangamon	108.74
Kane	106.49
Madison	104.74
DuPage	103.75
Bureau	101.93
St. Clair	101.35

Total 2,262.81

Cook, Iroquois, Vermilion, Champaign, Lake and Will counties have combined hard road mileage equal to that of either the state of Michigan or Wisconsin, leaving out of the consideration ninety-six of the counties of this state.

It would be necessary to add to this total only the mileage of McLean county to equal the entire hard road mileage of either the state of California or New York.

Other Materials Considered

The five best types of highway surfacing used by the states for their highway systems are concrete, brick, bituminous macadam and waterbound macadam. Illinois leads all states in the total mileage of these types, with 5,901.31 miles.

Elk Grove Farmers Nearly 100 Per Cent For Farm Bureau

The Farm Bureau membership in Elk Grove has reached 95 and there are indications that this township may reach 100 per cent. At present, it is the "star township" as regards farm bureau membership and activities. M. E. Lyons, who is in this county selling memberships has found that the farmers are ready to recognize the obligations that the farm industry as a whole, owes to the legislative and other work of the Illinois Agricultural association and the national organization.

Old Time Rivals Are Raring to Meet Again

The weather man last Sunday was against ball playing and the much heralded game between Arlington Heights and Palatine was necessarily postponed. The big game will take place this Sunday at Arlington Heights. Palatine is coming down with a lot of supporters. The local team is looking for equal support from Arlington Heights fans. The batteries are: Arlington Heights Dieball and Peters; Palatine, Swick and Wenegar. Both teams consist of home boys in whom the rival spirit of the two towns has been nursed, since they were lads and the fur will surely fly.

The artists complain the people are spending money for automobiles rather than pictures. But, even if so, the artists can get a job painting the automobiles.

When we read some of the things the powers are telling the Chinese, we can't help thinking about the bull in the china shop.—Southern Lumberman.

Honeymoon Home Materials Are Fireproof

Fire-safety, insulation against excessive heat and cold are among the outstanding features of the erection of Honeymoon Home, the model home that is being built by the Charles Gray Company, subdividers, in co-operation with George L. Parker & Son, contractors. All the construction and equipment throughout are of the best type, to make the structure a truly model house.

Honeymoon Home has the wood frame work which is characteristic of American home construction. But it is a well known fact that, although wood frame construction has many advantages, such as adaptability to architectural design, economy of erection and similar features, it will burn readily if exposed to fire. In order to insure this model home against the possibility of destruction by fire, special construction is being employed, particularly in the lathing and sheathing. The first of the fire-safe materials to be applied was Gyplap, which was nailed to the outside of the studs in place of the usual combustible wood sheathing. This material is really a "mineral lumber." It is made up of large units of gypsum rock, 1/2 inch thick, encased in a special waterproof binder. It can be sawed, nailed and fitted into odd spaces as easily as wood. And it performs four other functions besides acting as sheathing on the structure to which it is applied.

Gypsum rock is incombustible. So one of the first functions of this material is to form a barrier to fire wherever it is installed. Gyplap also helps to protect the home from excessive heat in the summer, because gypsum, being a natural insulator, keeps the heat of the sun's rays from penetrating the home. The inter-locking tongue and groove edges of the panels form a wind-tight wall and the sheathing cannot warp and open up holes through which winter wind can blow. Then, the waterproof binder takes the place of the building paper that must be used with wood sheathing. And the material forms a perfect backing for any type of exterior finish—brick veneer, stucco, wood siding, shingles or stone.

Gyplap also is economical to erect. The large size of each unit makes it possible to cover a large wall space with each one, thus cutting down labor time. The ease with which it is sawed and fitted lessens waste. And the fact that each board is perfect, so that all the material can be used, helps to eliminate waste.

As protection to the insides of the wood studs, Rocklath is being applied. Rocklath is much like Gyplap in that, too, is made of gypsum rock. But the units are not as large nor as thick, and the binder is made of a porous paper. This material has the same fire-resistant and insulative qualities as the sheathing, and it also can be nailed, sawed and fitted without difficulty. It comes to the job in practically unbreakable bundles, each bundle containing six or nine pieces of the lath, depending on the size of the units. There is enough of the lath in each bundle to cover thirty-two square feet of wall and ceiling space. Besides helping to insulate the home and to make it safe from fire, use of this lath also insures an indestructible wall. The most rigid tests by prominent authorities have proved that gypsum plaster adheres to the Rocklath with a firmer bond than to any other plaster base. This is because the crystals of the gypsum plaster, as it is being applied, penetrate the porous paper binder and knit firmly with the crystals of the gypsum that forms the core of the lath, thus making a solid wall of gypsum reinforced by the tough paper binder. Three coats of gypsum plaster will be applied over this rock lath to form the base for decoration.

With the Gyplap and Rocklath in place, the home is well protected from heat, cold and fire. But the open space between the outer wall of Rocklath still remains to form a flue up which fire could travel if it should get within the walls, and through which cold winds could be drawn. So as a final precaution, these flues are being filled with a filler of gypsum known as Thermafill. This material is a fluffy, asbestos like substance of gypsum which is poured into place from the sacks in which it comes. It is one of the best insulators yet discovered. It also presents an additional barrier to fire, since like all other gypsum building materials it cannot burn.

In the model home, this dry-fill gypsum is being poured into all the walls and it also is being poured over the ceiling of the second floor, under the finish flooring of the attic. Much of the heat in the uninsulated house escapes through the roof in the cold weather, and upper rooms are always hotter than those on the lower floor in the summer, because of the sun which has pierced the roof. But the filler of gypsum in the attic floor will prevent this uncomfortable situation in Honeymoon home.

Fire-safe and insulated wood frame construction of this type has been likened to protected steel frame construction such as every one has seen in huge apartment and office buildings. Because the wood frame is protected from fire which might destroy it, by means of the gypsum materials just as steel girders are protected from fire which might cause them to melt, by means of clay or gypsum tile or similar material.

The incombustible and insulative materials being employed in Honeymoon Home have been used largely through the efforts of Mr. Dodge of the Tibbets and Cameron Company who realized the great benefits such qualities would mean in a home. Gyplap, Rocklath, gypsum, plaster and Thermafill are being supplied to this job by the Tibbets and Cameron Company from one of the mills of the Gypsum Company.

WOMEN TO HAVE OWN GOLF CLUB

The sale has been announced of the 180 acre farm, opposite the Bowling Green Country Club, on Rand Road to an organization that proposes to establish an exclusive golf club for women. McElligott secured title to this farm about a year ago and there have been golf club rumors for some time. In speaking of the plans, the Chicago Tribune said as follows:

The Old Orchard Golf club, composed exclusively of women, has purchased a tract of 180 acres off Rand Road and directly adjoining the Bowling Green Country Club, about a mile northeast of Arlington Heights, where feminine enthusiasts of green and fairway may play without having to submit to the whims of the rougher sex.

There are to be twenty-seven holes. Work has already started on the first nine, and this unit is expected to be ready for play by September 1. The other eighteen holes will be laid out in nine hole units, so members of the club may play over a variable eighteen hole course.

And on tournament days, when 18 holes are in use, there will be nine holes left for private play.

Besides golf, there will be tennis courts, an outdoor swimming pool, and provision for other sports. And there will be a playground near the clubhouse where women may leave their children while they are on the course.

It is stated that the entire investment, including a valuation of $270,000 placed on the land, will be about $600,000. Option has been taken on sixty acres adjoining for homesites should this step be approved by the members, of whom there will be 600.

While the club is under construction there will be a men's advisory committee to tell how things should be done.

Presbyterian Notes

The Winmore class entertained their mothers at a banquet Friday evening at the Presbyterian church. Over 30 were present to enjoy a wonderful meal and social hour afterwards. Everyone was seated at a large table prettily trimmed in pink and white with apple blossoms. The meal was served by members of the Friendly class. Several interesting games had been planned which everyone enjoyed.

The social committee certainly is to be praised for everything that was done to make the banquet a success.

A Junior Christian Endeavor for boys and girls between the ages of 11 and 14 has been organized with the following officers and committees: President, Lois Kossack; Vice President, Florence Lorenzen; Secretary, Hilda Wilton; Treasurer, Dorothy Becker. Do not forget the Junior choir concert assisted by Miss Elizabeth Banta reader, at the church Tuesday evening, May 24. Tickets 50 cents. This concert is given for the benefit of the new parish house.

Sunday morning the sermon theme will be the Ascension of Jesus. All other services as usual.

Cannot Please Every Type

"How can we make a picture that will appeal to every type of audience?"

This has been the query of motion picture producers ever since the birth of the infant industry, and it has only been on rare occasions that such a picture has been made.

"It will never be possible to produce pictures that appeal universally, as long as there are differences of opinion," declares Phil Rosen, who directed "Heaven on Earth," the M-G-M production coming to the Arlington theatre Monday and Tuesday, May 23 and 24, "and the life of any art or industry, as the case may be, depends largely upon difference of opinion for advancement."

"A book, a painting, a piece of music that creates a discussion is usually successful."

"All classes of people do not like operas. And it is not only the literate that are numbered on the opposing side of this question. I know a very well educated man who declares opera to be neither music nor acting, but a destructive combination of these two arts."

"If I make a picture that draws fine characterizations and tells a story well, I do not worry whether or not it will satisfy every man, woman or child, for I am sure it will succeed. The man who is hurt by having his work criticized is passe. The very point that one man dislikes, another will choose as his favorite scene."

"And so it goes. If a picture is well directed, well acted, and well produced, there are certain to be enough people that like it to make it a success."

Renee Adoree and Conrad Nagel play the leading roles in "Heaven on Earth."

The patrons of the Arlington theatre will have a chance to see a true to life story of an extra girl in Hollywood, now that "Naughty Nannette" is playing there.

Viola Dana perennial favorite of movie fans the world over, plays the role of "one of the 10,000" and in such a manner that one moment a tear trickles down the cheek, only to be dried away with laughter the next.

"May, Why on earth do you call you finance 'April'?"

"Because dear, he brings May flowers."—Bystander.

The Eastman Kodak company has paid a wage dividend of $3,000,000. Evidently the public has not been pressing the button in vain.

Mrs. C. E. Haynes Honored on Eightieth Birthday Anniversary

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. A. F. Volz held an informal reception in honor of Mrs. E. C. Haynes. Between forty and fifty friends called to offer congratulations and extend best wishes for many happy returns of the day—it being Mrs. Haynes' eightieth birthday anniversary.

The affair was rather a surprise to Mrs. Haynes, as Mrs. Volz had invited her and her sister, Miss Eugenie Chrysler, to spend the afternoon. When they arrived, they found some of the guests already assembled to greet them, and several hours were happily passed with old and new friends. The spacious home of the Volzs was gay with spring flowers, yellow tulips and lilies of the valley graced the prettily appointed table in the dining room where refreshments were served.

As tokens of love and friendship many beautiful flowers and other gifts were brought to Mrs. Haynes. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Haynes' sister, Miss Eugenie Chrysler of Wilmington, Ill., and Mrs. Haunstrup of Chicago.

Questions asked how automobile speeders can be controlled. Well, one excellent way to control many of them would be to put them in jail.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

The Maytime isn't playtime in our peculiar little clime. When the busy birds and bees keep a stir within the trees; its building time and booster time. And I will bet a silver dime Housewives the time will seize To stage a clean-up wheeze.

Good morning everybody! Fine sunshiny morning this. Got your housecleaning done. O, yes, cleanliness is next to Godliness. You know that means we must clean out the inside as well as furnish up the outside of the platter. Right here let us pile up in a good big basket all the grouches and the unkind things and put them out where the carrying away wagons can be sure to haul them away.

Got a big hurt last week and if hadn't been Maytime might have hoarded up a real grouch. This is Maytime, and we are to have a clean out of all the evil things that hurt and hinder in a life of sunshine and service. "The top of the mornin'" to everybody.

Read the other day that hand-painted knees are the very latest. Once I knew a calporteur who stayed over night in a pioneer home, and when kneeling for evening prayer, spread his handkerchief on the well scoured pine floor to protect the knees of his black cloth trousers. Our girls may paint their knees to illustrate the lessons learned at mother's unpainted knees. At any rate it is all right if "our girls" do it, and in those new chasen spaces, save the paint off their fair faces, which I surely hope they'll do.

There is a picturesque path, winding diagonally across Dunton field and you who are helping to make it and travel over it must have seen and heard the bobolinks jingling their tiny silvery bells as they dip and sail along just in front of you from one end of that pretty path to the other. Somehow it seems as if those cheerful songsters have come to us early; by and by after their nesting season, is passed they go farther south, to feast in the rice fields, until they are served up on the banquet tables, at the Ortolan, the rice bird or the Carolinas.

So much is written and said about farmers deserting their job. Well here is a happy instance of a farmer moving his family into the town, and continuing his farming activities. Mr. Roy Dobbins, who recently moved his family into Arlington Heights that they may have the advantages of nearness to church, school and social affairs, and have all the modern conveniences. While he can breakfast at home and drive out to the farm, to keep up the needed work there.

This is so much better than deserting the farm altogether, and we hope other of our farmers who wish to give their families town advantages, and still carry on the farm, will follow Mr. Dobbins example. There is no more interesting and educational occupation than farming. A modern farmer needs to know all science and art and mechanics as well as the commercial ability to make his products pay. Just now so many are deserting our farms, and the scientists are hinting of synthetic foods. Horrors! Stick to the farm!

Just a word from the difficult season and the problem of getting in the grain and seed. The rain and wet, the cold, and so little warm sunshine; courage! It will come and when Maytime goes, it will be summer. Days, like drops upon the pane slip and join, and go.

O, the glory of the sunshine—Upon the poplar tree, And the soft clouds in the moonlight, Are like a melody.

O, the sunlight on the meadow, On the lacy web of leaves, On the lawn, in floating shadow—Like the webs, our fancy weaves.

O, the beauty of the Maytime—Where the fragrant lilacs sway, The glory of the skies, sublime, Where stars in splendor stray.

Really, I thought the spring was glorious until, met an old joy killer, who spun out his howl about the failure of all things, with the oldest and crudest of all—"The peach crop is killed!"

When city weedy people come to Arlington Heights to live, they are longing for quiet and space, why do our realtors build houses so close set, they seem just like rows of city houses? Space to breathe, space for trees, fruit and flowers, and for the children to play in, safe from the danger of the streets, is the real attraction to the city dweller. Even a 66 foot lot is too small for a growing family. I wish every family who comes to our City of Homes, might find space to live.

Was it Ezzykiel who said "woe unto them when they set house against house, until there is no place for the people or words with what meaning? At any rate, let the city "set house against house" but give us space in our suburban towns. There be those who have lived their life in the city who as years go by, homesick for the sights, the sounds and the advantages of "Dear old Chi." Now here is my sister, Miss Eugenie Crisler who lived over 35 years in Chicago, one who loved all things in nature and the great out of doors yet she feels more at home in the city than in the country, especially when winter comes. Oh, well, the city is all right for older people, but children need the country.

My! My! How "our city of homes" does grow and expand. North, south, east and west. So many beautiful homes. Through the kindness of Mr. Rexford Volz enjoyed a sight seeing trip through and over some of the magnificent distances of Arlington Heights, the other day. One would find difficulty in deciding where the most attractive homes and homesites are to be found. Throughout the south side the new homes spring up, in a wonderful variety of architecture and beauty. We passed that prize winning "Honeymoon" bungalow, standing in all its luring loveliness on a slightly elevation. All happiness to the winners.

Passed through the center of the town, far up to the north division, where so many wonderful improvements and home making has gone forward. The realtors, Behrens, and Schaffer have planned many, slightly homes, and there is that substantial new home for Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Volz, not a honeymoon cottage, but a culmination of the plans and anticipations of many "moons"—of careful thought it has so many original and individual features, carried out in such a pretty blend of color. It must be seen to be appreciated. Best of all the wide windows give a fine view of one of the farthest reaching expanse of field, wood and hill to be seen in Arlington Heights.

There are so many pretty homes so many kind friends, and so many conscientious good people in our town, I'm just bubbling over with things I want to tell you about them. This week, we have to record the sad passing away of Mrs. Louis Roehler, who has for so long been a sufferer. Who held her first grand child in her motherly arms the last days before her going. Then there was a wedding, a happy family affair, and there must have been a baby came to town though have not yet been told.

Shall I tell you, Observer had a birthday, an overwhelming surprise. And yet why should I be surprised at any kindness friends shower upon me. Haven't long years of their super-kindness priviled the abounding quality of their friendliness and love? 80 years! How the dear younger sojourners in this journey of life, stand appalled before the long years of it! O, well, dear young folks, its all good, and all bright if you keep your forward look! And each day brings its revolutions of God's Love and larger, more glorious years to come, in the life beyond.

I'll tell you more about that 80 years in the book, not yet out! Just here a word further about the kindness friends heaped up "a very old body" heaped up and running. At the end of a "Perfect Day" found a message from my dear friends—Rev. Allan Billman, a friend whom I have much missed and failing to meet him that day caused a shadow of regret. To offset this shadow, three little sunshiny maids met me, with messages from their mothers who are among my always dear friends. Little blossom girls were these pretty message bearers! I shall carry the glow of their bright faces for all time. And if I may be pardoned, these intimate personal allusions. The day, the overwhelming kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Volz, and their children, in opening their home for that surprise reception, and all the kind greetings and gifts, the garden of flowers—O, it is too much for my poor pen to express. I can only exclaim from a full heart—"God make me worthy of my friends!"

O, mother love's a glorious thing—First born of love and duty; The sages land, the poets sing, And praise its tender beauty.

Yea, mother love's a sacred thing, I would not undermine it; Yet sister's love! who garlands bring—Whoever can define it?

True mother love, a sacred fire From hearts maternal flowing, Childbearing does not light its torch Nor set its light a-glowing.

O, mother loves a sacred thing When love maternal feeds it, But where 'tis not—may angels bring To the poor child, who needs it.

Of sisters love today I sing Not on self love depending, A sacrificing, God-like thing Unrecognized—unending.

It follows you when wild despair, In evil ways pursue you, It rescues you from dangers, where The friends of hell pursue you.

It comes to you, when all the world Has closed its doors upon you When failure, and defeat have hurled their darts of scorn upon you.

Our God is love, and mother love, And sisters love abounding, And love of friends, come from above Life's way—with love surrounding.

—Elinore Crisler Haynes.

News from Washington

Though the Mississippi flood is justly regarded as one of the greatest disasters in our history, there are calloused individuals insistent on emphasizing the political features. With every available agency endeavoring to check the spread of the flood waters and promoting humanitarian measures essential to public welfare, certain organized groups are planning to make political capital out of the aftermath, that is, to take advantage of the flood control legislation which will be required.

The army engineers working might and main to check the unruly river waters, find themselves pitted against local and regional politicians. If these reports are true it is easy to imagine the situation in October when the Army's suggestions for relief measures are formally submitted and then reviewed by Congressional committees. It is the old story of the political "pork-barrel" or patronage which has retarded the development of inland waterways for decades. The soft pedal is applied to conversations along this line in official quarters, but indignation sometimes overcomes discretion and opinions crop out.

The Department of State and the Commerce Department are keeping tabs on the Geneva economic conference now in session. American observers are present but under their instructions they are restricted from committing the Federal government to any fixed policy. European intrigue, which usually shows its hand at council meetings, is feared because of the danger of entangling alliances in foreign affairs.

The new Canadian Minister had hardly presented his credentials here when he found himself confronted with a problem of the first-water. The immigration restrictions have aroused feeling throughout the Dominion and may bring a reaction unfavorable to this country. The dissention between the neighboring governments had origin in Detroit where American workmen wanted jobs given to Canadians who commuted daily from their homes to their places of employment. Unless the controversy is adjusted soon, it is expected that an economic battle and reprisals will ensue. The prohibition enforcement and smuggling problem is tied up with this affair.

The probable purchasers have given out very little information, but there are all kinds of rumors about the purposes to which the land in question will be put. The S. & S. cigar store and lunch room operated on Green street near round house by Smull & L. E. Sampson has changed hands the boys sold out to a Chicago man. They found that working eight hours a day in the railroad yards and then eight hours more in the lunch room was a little too much even for a young man to endure without injuring his health.

The assembly room of the old building was filled and many had to stand as all seats were filled. The committee put on a very interesting program. The first and seventh grades took a place on the program. Twelve of the parents took parts in a short play. Moving pictures in line with child welfare were shown and greatly appreciated by all. The finance committee have worked hard to raise the amount pledged and every one served in the basement of the school house. This was not only the last meeting for this school year but as well one of the best for attendance. The P. T. A. has had a wonderful growth in Bensenville. It was started with the idea of a better acquaintance between parents and teachers. Ground has been broken and work begun on the new building to be erected on the Orphan Home grounds. This will be a wonderful addition to the beautiful home and grounds in the southern part of the village. A complete write up on the new building will appear later and will no doubt be of interest to those who already know how much good this home has done and how its work has been appreciated by the old people who make their home there as well as by parents who have found a haven of shelter for their children when their companions in life have been called to the great beyond. The new building will so increase the room at the home as to give them an opportunity to help still more aged people and orphan children.

South Mannheim has electric lights now on all streets no more dark nights for them.

The writer predicts a change in the agriculture and labor industries the truck farmers can sell a lot of vegetables this year to the south and if the flood refugees invade the north, they will cut the wages.

Those southern river floods could be prevented, some, that those floods are getting worse every year is a sign that those rivers are getting filled up in some places with mud and sand which holds the water back sucking dredges should suck the mud and sand out the rivers, so the water can run free.

The writer's one son is on a hunting trip in the southern California wilderness, he shot 2 lions, a bear, a dozen wild cats, 8 coyotes, for the bounty, last week he shot a big 10 foot mountain lion in one shot with a $60 rifle. It took a team of horses to drag it a mile over rocks and sage brush and took three men to lift it in his auto, it brought him $250 cash in bounty money.

The writer likes such a hunting ground and a wash tub full of honey in it, which makes it a sweet home.

Aged Woman Dies

Three Days After Gas Overcomes Her

Miss Katherine Fox, aged 71 years, a resident of Bloomingdale the past six years, succumbed in an Elmhurst hospital from the effects of gas fumes inhaled in her home three days ago. Mrs. Fred Raap and other neighbors of Miss Fox found her unconscious body on the kitchen floor of her home last Friday.

Investigation disclosed that the draft from a window had evidently blown out the flame of a small gas burner and had caused the aged lady to become a victim of accidental asphyxiation.

Miss Fox was rushed to the Elmhurst hospital where the pulmonist was resorted to in an effort to save her life, but she died at 7 o'clock without regaining consciousness.

Dr. P. B. Isherwood of West Chicago, coroner of DuPage county, conducted an inquest at the late home.

Born in New York state, December 4, 1855, Miss Fox had resided in the east and southern part of Illinois until a few years ago. Since the death of her brother, William Fox, six years ago, she had been living alone. One brother, residing in Kansas, survives. Funeral services were held Wednesday.

Bensenville School Patrons Hold Mass Meeting In Hall

Tuesday evening the citizens of Bensenville called a meeting at which time it was hoped that the question of retaining the present school in the village. Several of the teachers who have not been offered a contract for the coming year were present, but as none of the school board was present the argument was all in favor of the board changing their old time practices and begin to build up for Bensenville schools an efficient corps of teachers by retaining the teachers whose work has been perfectly satisfactory and teachers that the principal and the board were perfectly willing to give a recommendation to teach in other schools. As the school board did not see fit to attend the mass meeting and give the parents their objections (if they have any) to persuading the course these same parents are very much in favor of, a committee was appointed to wait on the honorable board and ask them if they would kindly post a notice of the time and place of the next regular meeting of their board and also ask that said meeting be a meeting at which parents and tax payers would be welcome. Also to ask that this matter be discussed at that meeting and that their opinions be in a position to give their opinion on the subject. The opinion of all who spoke on the subject was to the effect that greater efficiency could be attained from teachers who held a permanent position on the faculty rather than from teachers who come expecting to be told at the end of the year that they are not wanted another year. All realized that that a school board does a lot of gratis work for a community and no doubt to no want to be hampered in their work at every meeting by nothing more than neighborhood talk. But from the talks made, it was easy to see that these same people did think that in matters where the future of our public school is at stake the board should be more than willing to give the people who are paying the bills some consideration and not only post notices of their meetings but invite the parents to attend.

"THE LAW WEST OF THE PECOS"

You will look in vain for Eagle's Nest on the map of Texas today, for the town of Langtry (named for Little Langtry of theatrical renown) has taken its place. But in the old days of 40 years ago Eagle's Nest was famed as just one thing—a saloon. On the front of this building was a sign which read "Judge Roy Bean, Justice of the Peace, Law West of the Pecos."

For this "red eye" emporium was also the temple of justice for a domain of thousands of square miles, and over it ruled Roy Bean, a king in his own right, whose scepter was a Colt's .45. He was the only justice of the peace in western Texas and he was equipped only with a copy of the Ohio statutes of ancient vintage, a sense of fair play and a strong belief in his ability to interpret the law as it should be, whether it was written that way or not. He was judge, jury and lord high executioner and there was no appeal from his decisions.

Once two Mexican couples came to him and announced that they wanted to trade life partners. The judge questioned them closely, found them all of the same mind, charged each of the men $15 and a dozen bottles of beer and pronounced the job done. Some time later a state official complained to Bean that in granting this unconventional divorce he had exceeded his authority.

"Why, say," exclaimed His Honor indignantly. "Have I ever butted into your affairs? They wanted to swap, they paid me, they're livin' pufferly happy and nobody 'round here has any fault to find. You just get back to Austin and handle your courts the way you want, but this is out of your jurisdiction!"

Judge Bean's "Law West of the Pecos" was uniformly profitable for him. One day an eastern tourist entered his saloon and ordered a bottle of beer. He laid down a $20 gold piece which Bean promptly pocketed. The tenderfoot demanded his change and upon being denied it started an argument. "Court's in session," announced the judge immediately. "But hee cost you 50 cents and you're fined $19.50 for disturbing the peace!"

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

A Citadel of the Plains

"Whenever the history of the Southwest shall be written, more than one long and interesting chapter must be devoted to the first permanent settlement on its plains and the first permanent settler there," writes George Bird Grinnell, the eminent historian of the West, and he is referring to Bent's Fort on the Arkansas and Col. William Bent, Colorado's first settler and first settler. What Fort Laramie was to the Oregon Trail country, Bent's Fort (which, like Laramie, was also first called Fort William), was to the land through which ran the Santa Fe trail.

It was in 1828 that William Bent, his brother Charles and Ceran St. Vrain began this post, 15 miles above the mouth of the Purgatoire river, and when they had finished it in 1832 it was a veritable citadel of the plains. More than 150 Mexicans had labored on it, building a fort of adobe, 180 feet long, 135 feet wide, 15 feet high and with walls of four feet thick, impervious alike to Indian arrows or torch. Two high loathed towers stood at opposite corners and over the main gate was a watchtower in which was mounted a telescope which swept the whole surrounding landscape.

Bent's Fort, which in history it stood on a great highway along which swept the whole colorful procession of western conquest. It saw the Doniphan and Kearney expeditions march past on the way to Mexico in 1846; it saw long wagon trains of the Santa Fe trade and the old historic trail and was visited by many famous travelers and explorers.

After the decline of the fur trade Colonel Bent tried in the early '50's to sell his fort to the government as a military post but failed. So in 1852 he laid charges of gunpowder under it and blew it to smithereens. In 1853 the fort was again set on fire and burned to the ground. It was burned out of existence by the fire which swept the present city of Pueblo.

In 1853 Bent began a new fort of stone on the north side of the Arkansas river about 38 miles below the site of the old one. In 1850 the government leased the fort and named it Fort Union, then renamed it Fort Wise, in honor of the governor of Virginia. But when he joined the Confederacy, at the outbreak of the Civil war it was renamed Fort Lyon in memory of the Union general who fell at the battle of Wilson's Creek, Missouri. Although the site of the post has changed several times, the Fort Lyon, Colo., of today claims as its progenitor the historic "Bent's Fort on the Arkansas."

The Michigan experiment station recommends either skim milk or buttermilk as a protein feed for pigs on pasture. They have found that when corn is worth $1 and $1.50 per cwt. skim milk is worth 28 and 42 cents respectively. Buttermilk is worth just about the same as skim milk. Why has about half the feeding value of skim milk.

Tankage will replace from three and a half to five and a half times as much corn when fed to swine. With pigs of 50 pounds they recommend that 1 pound of tankage be fed with about 6 pounds of corn. The pig takes on weight the corn should be gradually increased until a weight of about 200 pounds. One pound of tankage should be fed with about 10 pounds of corn.

Franklin Park Dept.

Mrs. A. B. Kirchhoff arrived home Saturday from Hinsdale sanitarium where she spent four weeks. She is improved in health.

Two new houses are being built on Rose street. One on the north side next to the Eggleston house, and another on the south side next to J. H. Hart's residence.

The high school board has engaged one new teacher for next year. Miss Brown who will teach General Science. All the other teachers have been retained.

Miss Nevada Voelkel of Chicago spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Voelkel.

Will trade 40 acres of land in Michigan for residence lot in Franklin Park. Write to P. O. box 322, Franklin Park, Ill.

Franklin Park is doing her part for the flood sufferers. The various organizations have raised the following amounts. Woman's club proceeds of bakery sale $80.00. Social Lodge $75.00. M. E. church collection of Sunday May 15, $65.00. Eastern Star $50.00. Royal Neighbors $25.00. M. E. church Ladies Aid $15.00. There may have been contributions from other organizations of which we have no notice.

The formal opening of Leyden high school will be Monday May 23. Every one is welcome and no one should miss this opportunity to "enjoy the excellent program which has been prepared with much care by the faculty and students. Franklin Park band will make its debut the Glee club will sing and there will be an out of town speaker. The building will be open to the public all day. Come and see your new high school building.

We are very sorry to see the trouble our two bus lines have been having as usual the public has to suffer. At present one line operates along Grand ave., and if you want to go to the city you have quite a long walk. Especially if you live on the north side of the St. Paul tracks. The Franklin Park bus line gave us excellent service and the buses were kept nice and clean. We are sorry that we are obliged to walk so far to get a bus to the car line. We believe a good motto would be "to live and let live."

Have you noticed the new paving that is being put in as you come through Galewood and River Grove? Doesn't it make you feel uncomfortable to see all your neighbors getting their towns fixed up while we are behind when it comes to paving? But we know it won't be long now. Our village administration promised that if the people wanted paving they could have it. After our public hearing, we hope it won't be delayed like Chicago's subway. Of course, Chicago has not been wholly to blame. Big Bill hasn't been in so very long. He said they would have a subway and a subway he will give them. While we know we haven't a "Big Bill" in this village, we do know there will be more improvement in the next two years than has been in the last ten. So if every one will give a hand and help just a little by boosting for our village, we will soon look with pride on our town. We are coming, just give us time, for you can rest assured we have our ear to the ground. Don't find fault if you get the best pavement and improvements that will last.

Our streets will be wide enough for traffic both ways, besides room for parking. We have learned that from experience in driving in near by suburbs.

There is a vacant space on Franklin ave., which needs the attention of the village improvement committee. The corner of Edgington and Franklin Ave., north side of Franklin ave. One of the first buildings built in the village stood there and was occupied at one time by W. B. McAuliff's saloon. There being no electric light in Franklin Park at the time an acetylene gas system of lighting was put into this building and it was thought an explosion might occur just as the building which was burned to the ground as well as Mahlers boarding house and large barn on the other side of Edgington street where James Ames' residence now stands. Franklin Parks fire fighting apparatus was at that time very primitive consisting of a hose cart drawn by the firemen and a hand pump. There was no water system here then. The wells would soon be pumped dry and the nozzle of the hose become filled with sand from the bottom of the well and then the firemen and the crowd stood helplessly by while the fire burned itself out. This happened about 25 years ago and the excavation which was the basement of the saloon has been used ever since as a place to dump all kinds of rubbish diaphragm iron beds, worn out stoves, battered wash tubs and boilers and a multitude of tin cans all of which presents any thing but a nice appearance on the main street through the village. They are not as noticeable in summer as in winter owing to the leaves of the trees and the rank growth of cockle burrs serving as a screen.

Residents of Rose street are glad to see that without some unpardonable delay the paving will be completed by the end of this week. It is one of the prettiest streets in the village with its comfortable homes, green lawns and graceful trees on each side of the street. When the paving is completed and the ornamental lights put in it will be a street to be proud of. Take a walk up Rose to King street then look back and see if you don't agree.

The formal opening of the Leyden high school is changed from Thursday evening, May 19 to Monday May 23. Don't forget! The Franklin Park school board makes its first public appearance that night; so let's all be in our seats at the first rat-a-tat-tat of the drum.

The appearance of the grounds around the Community M. E. church have been much improved by several loads of earth and crushed stone.

A petition is being circulated among the citizens of Franklin Park asking for better train service from the C. M. & St. P. R. R. This petition should have the support of every one. A train leaving Franklin Park for the city around 6:10 or 6:15 a. m. would accommodate many who are now obliged to use the bus and street cars.

Mrs. O. D. Beckett entertained a party of young folks from Chicago Saturday evening at her home on Ruby street.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

We have attended Father and Son banquets, time after time in years past and now we are to see a custom started in this church that will be just as enjoyable to the mothers and daughters. Tuesday evening May 24 a Mother and Daughter banquet will be given at the M. E. church. There will be an interesting program. A very fine reader, Master Gerhard Seidel, will be present. Some of us have had the pleasure of hearing him read and we can assure the mothers and daughters a real treat. There will be special musical numbers by the orchestra and vocal solos by Mr. Curtis McFall.

Tickets can be obtained from the following men: Messrs Barr, Koenig, Radel, Nation, I. Scoffern and also of the pastor, Rev. Henslee. Make your reservations early and come prepared to have a good time. Each ticket reads—admit mother and daughter. Price $1.50.

DO YOU REMEMBER

Do you remember way back when there were no grocery stores and no meat markets in Franklin Park? Meat wagons and bakers wagons came from Maywood three days a week and went around to the houses.

When there were no automobiles in the village? Walk down Franklin ave., now and you can count 30 or 35 cars parked between Ruby and Edgington streets.

When we could get ice 3 times a week, if the horse didn't go lame or the wagon lose a wheel.

When the only building in the block which is bounded by Franklin ave., on the north, Rose street on the west, Schiller Boulevard on the south and Edgington street on the east, was the residence of Mrs. Rupp now occupied by her son Roy Rupp and every summer cheap shows and merry-go-rounds pitched their tents in this space for a few days or a week much to the delight of the youngsters.

SPECIAL INVITATION TO A. F. & A. M. MEMBERS

MT. PROSPECT

Mr. Herman F. Meyer has purchased a power lawn mower sharpener.

Wednesday evening, May 11, the Mt. Prospect Woman's club held their regular monthly business meeting at the public school house.

The Ladies Aid society of St. Paul's Lutheran church had a meeting at the home of Mrs. Gustav Grimm, on Thursday afternoon, April 12.

A benefit bunco party was given by Mrs. Frank Flesch at her home on Thursday evening, May 12.

There were about fifty present and at the close of the games refreshments were served.

Huecker Ford Service, expert mechanics, truck service. Mt. Prospect, Illinois. (9-30)

Prospect Post Entertainments

Friday evening May 13, was the first occasion that Prospect Post No. 1337 V. F. W. has had to entertain the state officers of the organization. They also invited Arlington Heights Post No. 981 to attend and about thirty-eight enjoyed the banquet which was given at Kruse's Eat Shop. Music was furnished by Minnich Bros. orchestra. It will long be remembered as one of the gala days of the year.

A surprise party was given in honor of Mrs. William Busse on Tuesday evening May 17, at her home. This party was sponsored by the members of the Ladies Aid society in recognition of ten years of faithful service as treasurer.

Mrs. Busse was taken for a drive. Upon her return she was made almost speechless by finding 45 ladies in her home. Games were played and a general social time enjoyed.

Rev. E. J. A. Mueller arrived later and gave a talk that was fitting for the occasion. Last, but not least, the "eats" were served.

When Mr. Frank Burman is not on duty at the hardware store it is natural for everybody to ask "where's Frank?" On Thursday April 12th Mr. Bierman sprained his ankle and was confined to bed and home for several days. We are glad to say that he is back on the job.

A dance will be given at the Dalebrook on Saturday evening May 21 under the auspices of Mt. Prospect Post No. 1337 V. F. W. Music will be by Minnich Bros. orchestra. Admission gets 75c. Ladies 25c. Wardrobe ten cents. Don't fail to attend.

Some time this month the regular poppy drive will be made. We all know that the proceeds go to a most worthy cause, and let each and every one respond when called upon. As heretofore the Ladies Auxiliary, F. V. W. will have charge. Mrs. Ed. Pingel will act as chairman of same.

John Gors has increased his business in Mt. Prospect to such an extent that it was necessary for him to purchase an additional truck so that he could keep the various jobs supplied with the necessary equipment. Mr. Gors at present is employing 25 men in his building and cement crews.

Tuesday was clean up day and a real clean up it was. Chief Mulso was supervising the job and saw to it that every thing was done up in the right way. It is indeed pleasing to note the splendid cooperation on the part of our citizens in assisting in this work.

Dame Rumor has it that the people in the old section or rather the west town will be the fortunate ones on being on the first secure pavement for their section of our village. We hope this is the case as they are really the first to be considered. However we all would like it as soon as possible but it may be possible that all three sections can be started at the same time and then everybody would be happy.

Tuesday evening the school directors received and opened bids for the new school building. The school house was crowded with bidders and citizens. A total of 39 bids were received of which four were for the complete job. These ranged from about $20,500 to $34,500. Among the local bidders were J. H. Gors, Wm. Busse & Son, Quinn & Gerken, Mt. Prospect.

Electric Construction Co., Wm. Scott, Wille Construction Co., and Dr. Fredericks Jr. A number of bidders came from Chicago as well as DesPlaines and Arlington Heights. After all the bids had been opened it was decided to postpone the awarding of the contracts until Tuesday evening May 24 at 8 p. m. should the directors decide to let contracts. This brings the new school a step closer and brighter prospects for it being ready for the September term of school.

Chief Mulso has requested that the citizens apply to him before June 1st for their dog license so that this matter will be taken care of and no unnecessary trouble caused for failure to secure these license. Most all of our citizens have already done this but not all so let us make it 100% before June 1.

Our business men report the usual normal business and in fact some are real pleased with the gain over last year as the new citizens moving into our village have helped in more ways than one.

It has been reported the Fred Meeske is the proud owner of a new home in Busse's eastern addition and also that the grocery store will now be known as Meeskes.

E. Kester, Dr. Williams and Dr. Wilhelm also report business as being in good shape. Dr. Kester looks after our general health while Dr. Williams takes care of our teeth and Dr. Wilhelm sees to it that we see properly. In this connection Dr. Horstman is also well pleased with business.

When you feel like you want a treat and the Mrs. does not feel like making a big dinner Rudolph Kruse is prepared at his restaurant to provide the eats for the whole family.

Poppy Day at Mount Prospect May 27-28

William H. Genrich of Mount Prospect, Commander of Post No. 1337, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been selected by the post as chairman of the Poppy Sales Day Drive which takes place in this locality on Friday, May 27 and Saturday, May 28.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars is an organization of ex-soldiers whose association was founded in 1899. No ex-service man is eligible for membership unless service on foreign lands or foreign seas is indicated on his discharge papers. There are numbered 78 posts of this organization in the State of Illinois.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars in a measure maintain their welfare and relief fund from moneys secured through the sale of poppies annually. The organization also maintains a service department in the county building in Chicago where the problems of rehabilitation, hospitalization and compensation are adjusted for all disabled ex-service men.

A portion of the poppy sale fund is used in maintaining a home for orphans of ex-service men. This institution is in Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

Abraham Greenfield of Chicago is the State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and E. H. Hamilton is the State Quartermaster.

Have the lion and the lamb lain down together? Borah comes out and says that Coolidge is entitled to a second election as president. Perhaps he likes the sound of "Coolidge and Borah."

The papers reported a few days ago the election of another young woman as "beauty queen" who does not deduce her face with cosmetics. This is refreshing. The judges in this case must have been men.

Two girl pupils in a Kansas rural school are reported not to have misspelled a word in three years. They should be able to pick their jobs and name their own terms as stenographers when they get through with their school work.

Edsel Ford says he made a mistake and now wishes he had a college education. If it could be arranged there are a lot of young men in this country who would sell him one for a fraction of his cash assets.

WHEELING

The Sternberg family of Chicago visited the Gussman this week.

Miss Gladys Fritsch has been visiting relatives here, while recuperating from a recent operation. Miss Ethel Reeb is employed by the Wheeling Pharmacy.

Miss Adele Richman was detained at her home the fore part of the week due to the serious illness of her mother. Mrs. Robt. Allison served as substitute teacher during her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meyer spent the week-end with their son in Elmhurst.

Miss J. Bentz of Chicago visited the Welfin family on Sunday.

A number of Wheeling O. E. S. members attended a meeting of Barrington Chapter on Monday evening.

Mrs. Chas. Balling and Miss L. Schneider attended the annual banquet for Girl Scout leaders at the Chicago Woman's Club on Monday evening. About 200 leaders representing Chicago and Cook Co. were present. The assembly was especially honored by the presence of the national vice president, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, also commissioners from the states of Colorado, Tennessee, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. Girl scouting has been termed as "an adventure in comradeship," and truly so, as was very evident by the spirit of congeniality which prevailed in this gathering composed of women of widely divergent ages and walks of life.

Members of Bluebird Troop Girl Scouts had a happy meeting in the Forest Preserve on Tuesday evening. Out of door cooking, finding out the ways of nature, singing around the camp fire passed the hours of the evening all too speedily.

The commencement exercises of Wheeling school will be held Wednesday evening May 25. Outside talent will be secured for the program. Further detailed announcement will be found in the school news column.

FIRE DEPARTMENT DANCE WELL ATTENDED

Wheeling Volunteer Fire Department held their annual May dance Saturday, May 14, at Sam. Warnecke's Chicago House.

The dance was well attended, the girls being there in force and not a few of the boys who failed to avail themselves of the opportunity as a wonderful time was had by all.

Sam Warnecke was on the job as usual doing everything possible to assist the committee in charge and made the guests feel the real welcome that is a custom at the Chicago House.

The committee: Carl Moeller, Jesse Mayer and Earl Johnson, while handicapped by various obstacles nevertheless brought the affair to a successful conclusion financially as well as providing a good time.

Several expressed the opinion that the firemen were running too many dances and seemed inclined to refuse their co-operation by not wanting to buy tickets for the dance.

We feel that this is the opportunity to bring to the minds of the people that it is important to us to co-operate with our public departments, especially when an important department such as the fire department is composed of volunteers.

First the volunteer fire department renders its services without any compensation whatever if any of them are injured or killed while on duty they receive nothing.

They must get up and be on the job any time of the day or night, when emergency demands, and they do all this willingly and in good spirit without complaint.

They stand ready to sacrifice time, even life itself, if necessary, and it seems that it should be considered the duty of every citizen to co-operate and contribute to the success of any and all functions that are for the benefit of our fire fighters.

Suppose they should run one or more dances or other affairs than usual, and we should be asked to assist by buying their tickets; is it not a good investment? Is it not helping those who are ever alert and ready to protect our homes and places of business. Why certainly it is, and the best we can do is to be with the boys and help in any affair that they may run for the benefit of the fire department.

With the progress that Wheeling is making and will continue to make we must not overlook the necessity of our various public departments that are and will become necessary with the development of our town.

Following is a list of the names of the men who make up the Wheeling Volunteer Fire Department:

Al. Utapdel chief, Carl Moeller first assistant, Ed. Moeller, second assistant, Jesse Mayer, Earl Johnson, John Braun, Wm. Miller, Sylvester Miller, Ed. Billmore, John Wick, Bert Hartman, Fred. Wolf, Fred. Schmidt, Otto Utapdel, Bo. Utapdel, Frank Utapdel, Clarence Hoffman, John Schminke, Geo. Sieks, Walter Pieper, Aug. Pieper, Chas. Utapdel.

Wheeling can well feel proud of this list of red blooded men who stand ever ready for the clang of the bell and the call to action.

The committee sincerely thanks the citizens and business people of Wheeling for the hearty co-operation given them both at this affair and previous ones.

New Garage in Wheeling

Wm. F. Krueger is back at his old stand in Wheeling where he has served the public as general blacksmith and horseshoer the past 24 years. He has improved his shop where he will now make a specialty of repairing automobiles and carry a line auto accessories, do blacksmithing and will do horseshoeing on farms by appointment with his patrons. Yours for good service. Wm. F. Krueger, Phone 27, Wheeling. (6-3)

EAST MAINE

John Ahrens is serving on jury in the criminal court.

Ray Jaacks celebrated his birthday anniversary May 11 with a small party of relatives and friends present.

Lester Sonn tried out his new Ford on a trip to his home town, Fond du Lac, Wis., over the week-end and reports a lovely trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tegmeier attended the funeral services held for their nephew, Frederick Tegmeier at Homewood, May 16.

Frederick, who was but seven years of age, was a victim of pneumonia. Martha Schaefer was brought home from the hospital May 11, convalescing satisfactorily from her operation for appendicitis. All are glad to see her home again.

Another funeral held May 16 of interest to folks of this vicinity, was that of Mrs. Gust Habelank of Niles; whose death came May 13, following a lengthy illness. Many East Mainites attended the services held at the late home of the deceased, burial at Ridgewood.

Rev. L. A. Grotheer officiated. The annual school festival for division three will be held May 26 in the Glenview Forest Preserve, the same spot which last year proved to be adequately suited for the purpose. Although there will not be a contest to select the queen of the division as was done last year, nor will there be as many gorgeous floats, the teachers and pupils under Country Life Director Aken's able supervision, are working harder than ever to make the 1927 festival a success from 11 a. m. until late afternoon.

There will be races and contests galore for all the children, also races for the teachers and directors. In the afternoon there will be three ball games, two for the boys and one for girls. The Maine township high school band which furnished such stirring music at the last festival, will again provide entertainment for the crowds. Everybody is invited and welcome.

Plan now to take a day off, pack your lunch or dinner and join the children at the Glenview forest preserve for a gala day.

Possibly the cold wind blowing across the East Maine Diamond on Sunday afternoon had something to do with the failure of the Park Ridge team to put over the brand of good baseball they were expected to bring to East Maine, but whether that was the reason or not, the Park Ridge team found themselves swamped with a 6 to 0 score. They started out poorly and began their field work with overcoats on. But when two of East Maine's batsmen knocked a double apiece, the Ridge fielders thought it as time to remove their cold protectors. Four runs in favor of the home team were scored in that first inning and then with nothing else much exciting other than some nifty strikeouts by both pitchers, the game moved along until the sixth when Ahrens and Bestman singled. There were 11 strikeouts off Schultz and 19 off Miller. The crowd was pretty good considering the weather, but let's hope we may be favored with more suitable baseball weather for next Sunday's game.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY
By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Where Ruled the "Emperor of the West"

At Fort Union, N. D., Kenneth McKenzie once reigned as the "King of the Missouri"; at Bent's Fort on the Arkansas Col. William Bent enjoyed almost unchallenged sovereignty over the vast territory along the Santa Fe trail; but the greatest unowned monarch of them all was Dr. John McLoughlin, officially chief factor for the Hudson's Bay Company in Oregon but spoken of far and wide as the "Emperor of the West," a benevolent despot who for 22 years ruled over an empire 400,000 square miles in extent, of which his post, Fort Vancouver, Wash., was the capital.

From 1670 to 1818, though theoretically belonging to Great Britain, the Pacific northwest was dominated by the Hudson's Bay Company. From 1816 to 1846, under the terms of the Treaty of Ghent, this vast territory was under the joint occupancy of Great Britain and the United States but in reality the work of the H. B. C. was the law, and the Hudson's Bay did not look any too kindly upon American interlopers. The one exception was Dr. McLoughlin to whom we owe an eternal debt of gratitude.

Fort Vancouver was the result of the merger in 1821 of the Northwest company, which had put John Jacob Astor's Pacific Fur company out of business on the Columbia, with the Hudson's Bay company, which had in turn crushed the opposition of the Northwest organization. McLoughlin was an employee of the Northwest company but after the condition he was retained by the H. B. C. as chief factor for the Oregon country. In 1824 he began this fort on the Columbia, 60 miles above Fort Astoria.

He soon won the affection of the Indians, who called him "The Great White Chief" and his power over them, as well as over all whites who came into contact with him, made him a man whom not even the officers of the Hudson's Bay company dared oppose. Time and again he saved American missionaries and American settlers from massacre or from starving when they arrived in the new country. Incidentally, his reward was the basest kind of ingratitude. In 1846, when the Hudson's Bay company forced him to resign because he would not follow its policy in regard to the American emigration, he was a comparatively poor man, made so by his loans to settlers who never repaid him. History is full of the legend that Marcus Whitman saved Oregon to the United States. But the simple truth is that that honor belongs to Dr. John McLoughlin, the "Emperor of the West" who ruled at Fort Vancouver. (© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

Palatine Man Finds

Thieves in Home

The daily work of C. H. Seip of Palatine is in the Cook County Detention home, where he is a guard keeping order among young thieves and wrong doers. He never expected that he would be called upon to serve in a like capacity in his own home. He found two thieves at work in his home when he returned there about 9:30. This day evening. The latter escape with a number of watches and some silverware belonging to Mr. Seip's son, John. Mrs. Seip is out of town and Charley had been down to his theatre building. The work of the thieves was amateurish and it is taken for granted that they are sufficiently acquainted with local affairs to think that they would have an easy time robbing the place. They carried no gun, or flashlight and their only tool of entry was a railroad coupling pin, with which they disfigured the back door. A dog in the basement was not aroused. Entrance was finally gained through a window.

When Mr. Seip entered his home he discovered that the catch of the front door had been moved. This did not arouse any suspicion and he knew nothing of the visitors until he snapped on the light and saw two men in the bedroom. Mr. Seip grappled with one who threatened to shoot. On account of the smooth floor, Mr. Seip slipped and this man was able to run out of the back door. The other one jumped for a window, Charley after him. Mr. Seip was able to hold him by the arm as he was hanging out of the window, but this man also got away, leaving behind only his hat. No further clue has been found.

MORTON GROVE

Paving preparations are proceeding at a normal rate on Georgiana Street; School Street has all curbs and gutters finished, and work is now being done to level the main roadway for pouring of first layer of concrete; which will be done this week.

Continued cold weather, combined with effects of the recent hail storm, has held back growth of flowers and shrubs in our village to a noticeable extent.

Judging from the amount of street soil which has been loaded on the outside parkway, it looks as though the caretaker of Memorial Park would have an extra busy time the next few weeks. The park proper is in fine shape and very attractive.

Richard Weights, the cement basement of Monday of the house he is building on Georgiana street. The roof of the George Harter house was put on last week, also garage roof. It looks as though most of the home building in the village this spring was being done in the eastern portion, although the western part of the village has two new houses in the Lump subdivision to its credit.

Jerusalem I. P. S. attended the rally of the North Shore zone of the Walther League at Libertyville. About 250 young people of eight different congregations along the North Shore assembled for their quarterly meeting, which was held in the spacious hall of the Libertyville high school. First the usual business meeting was held. After luncheon the Libertyville society rendered their entertainment consisting of vocal, and instrumental music and a speech by Prof. Martin Graebner of Concordia College Milwaukee. The theme of the speech was put in the form of a question, "Will the old book stand?" A very timely subject, and the speaker answered the question in a most masterly and interesting manner.

The Y. P. S. has arranged for a come-together party for the whole congregation at 8 p. m. If you have not received an invitation do not take it amiss. Come right along.

Mr. Edward F. Brizzolara is to commence construction before June first, of two brick bungalows of modern and attractive design, on the south side of Crain street, near Austin avenue.

Fred Fletcher and contractor Adolph Poehner were very unfortunate last week, as the storm broke a few moments after the top cement on about 150 feet of wall of the Fletcher grounds, School street, had been poured; after the hail ceased, expert workers at once made efforts to re-finish the work, but it was found impossible to entirely erase marks of the hail stones, some of the marks showing a half-inch deep or more and the entire walk was relaid a few days later.

Residents of Morton Grove will no longer have occasion to view the old and worn "Morton and White" school banner at the May festival and other occasions, for the Welfare Club has arranged for the purchase of a handsome new banner which will be ready for the festival May 26. Also, a fine American flag and pole will soon appear on the school grounds, as Trustee Tierney has been circulating a subscription list for several weeks, individuals and organizations of the village having responded liberally.

Principal Huckleberry and teachers have a busy time, between the usual extra work at end of the school year, and preparation for the beautiful musical show to be given in June at the Wayside Inn; Mildred Jahn has been chosen to represent the Fairy Queen.

The Morton Grove Chamber of Commerce will meet at the Village hall Wednesday, May 18 at 8 p. m.

Voice of the People
Editor Niles Center Herald:
Dear Sir: Is it not true that we sometimes overlook the "heroes in our midst?" It is a good thing to workers have done for the betterment of conditions.

How many have ever thought of thinking "citizen August Poehlmann" for his assistance when conditions have made it impossible for the village pumping station in Morton Grove, to supply water? How unpleasant, not to say dangerous,—would have been the state of things if he had been "not interested" when such conditions arose?

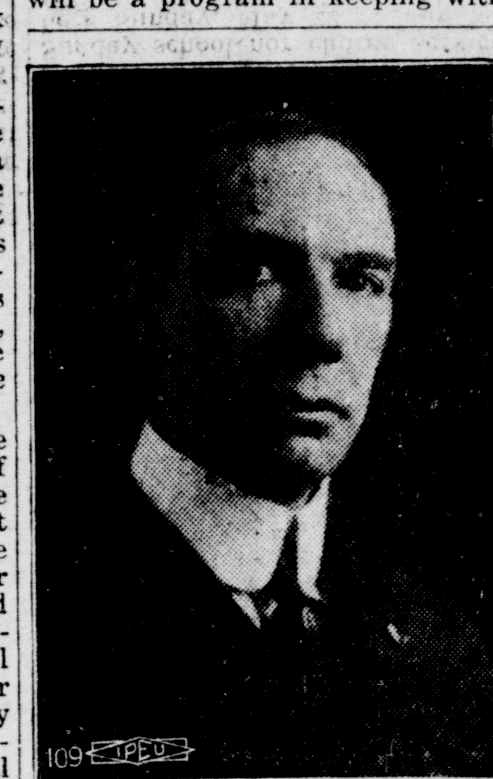

And our township nurse, Mrs. Cole; how invaluable her quiet but efficient services in recent months, when many children were ill, and others threatened. Instead of adding to the worry of every mother in the district, by scarce headlines and exaggerated news, this hard-working and kind woman went from house to house—assisting the mothers of the children, showing them how to properly care for ill children, and also—which is just as important, showing them how to keep the well children from becoming ill and finding food, clothing and other necessities for those families in need, thus preventing many from contracting sickness from lack of proper living conditions. The heart of many a father and mother in the township is grateful to this lady for helping them to avoid trouble or get out of it, at a time when some newspapers of the township were exaggerating news and printing scare headlines which struck terror to the hearts of parents of little ones, thus making capital out of the misfortunes of others.

And last but not by any means least, how about our volunteer fire departments? Who deserves appreciation more than the voluntary workers in this line? They offer to go out in any weather freezing cold or burning heat,—to break their rest at night after a hard day of labor to endanger their own lives at times, by their willingness to be part of a crowd serving to protect the property of all, is it not true that there is much gratitude due to any citizen who has at any time served with credit in the volunteer fire department?

A Niles Township Resident.

OPENING OF NEW LEYDEN SCHOOL NEXT MONDAY

Monday, May 23rd, is an important event in the territory of the Leyden Community high school district. Upon that date their new high school building will receive its official opening. It will be an all day affair. Hon. Henry R. Rathbone congressman at large, of Illinois, will deliver the address at the evening program. The Leyden Community high school band of 36 pieces will play. The boys and girls glee club will sing and it will be a program in keeping with the important event that is being observed.

HENRY R. RATHBONE
Who will deliver address at Leyden High School Opening

The patrons and the general public are invited to visit the school throughout the day. All the classes will be open to visitors. An art exhibit which represents one phase of the school activities of that institution, will be open for inspection. The day will be given over as an exhibit of not alone the school building, but the work that is being done along educational lines within that building.

The evening program will start at eight o'clock. Mr. Rathbone is a national figure, much sought after as a speaker and Leyden township has been fortunate in securing his consent to be present and deliver the address. The school board and the superintendent are to be congratulated upon securing him. The band and the glee club need no introduction to the citizens of the district, but with every new appearance, they show improvement and they are bent upon out-doing all previous efforts on next Monday evening.

In behalf of the school board, the superintendent, teachers and pupils of the Leyden Community high school this paper extends an invitation to other schools and the general public to attend this opening program.

Voice of the People
To the Editor: Dear Sir:
One thing can always be said about the Cook County and Niles Center Herald's they speak out plain, and everybody can understand what they print.

Another newspaper printed in the same district cannot claim the same virtue; it lately said of an ex-official, that he had "filled a long tour in office," and again, also on the front page, referring to fire in the Kuhl home in Tessville, stated in the headline that it was a "Morton Home" and that a party who is covered the fire "found the rest of the house wrecking with smoke."

We wonder what it means when an official fills "a long tour in office"; we had thought that when a person accepted an office from the public, it was something to stay in and not a "tour" and we also wonder what a house "wrecking with smoke" looks like; we have heard of, and seen, houses being wrecked with fire and storms and some other things, but we never yet heard of a house that had been "wrecked" with smoke! Our guess is that the correspondent meant to say "reeking" but did not quite make it.

And we sometimes wonder whether it is their lack of an stenographic diploma, or their political excitement wearing off, which causes them to "get that way."

But one thing we can depend on, the Cook County Herald and Niles Center Herald always go on, week after week in such a manner that we can know just what they mean.

Boy Scout Troop 55 Still Quite Active

Saturday, May 14 the troop took its fifth hike. The destination was a forest west of town, near Apple-yards' cabin. It was an ideal day to stay at home. When it was not sprinkling, it was raining; or when it was neither raining or sprinkling it was threatening to do so. But we were dressed for tough going, and we had a good time. We would not have allowed anyone to tell us that we were all damp, either. There was a fire building and fire lighting contest before lunch. Lunch is a large item on a boys' hike and it took some time. After lunch and a few showers there was a tracking contest which showed some of the boys how easy it is not to see things. Between showers we came back to civilization.

Monday afternoon after school several of the troop did a good turn by tearing down about a dozen black-birds nests along Prairie avenue, and killing about sixty of the birds large and small. The government is more interested in our song birds than in these pests. There will be no small birds nests near the place where these killers hang out. It is just as important to protect our small birds from black birds and blue jays as to protect them from mean people.

Saturday, May 21 the troop will go to the Council Cabin northeast of town to compete with the other troops in a variety of events including outdoor inspection. Don't say we didn't tell you. The boys tell me that the old troop frying pan is crying for bacon, and we are very sympathetic.

Glenview Methodist Episcopal Church

A week from Sunday, being the day before Memorial day we will observe the day in our church. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Isaiah speaks to America."

Palatine and Antioch

May Again Be Rivals

Palatine high school base ball team and the Antioch team appear to be again rivals for the base ball championship of the Northwest Conference. Palatine team now heads the southern division and Antioch does the same in the northern half of the conference. Palatine added another win to their record last Tuesday when they defeated Arlington Heights by a score of 7 to 3. Palatine made four runs in the first inning. Grandy, the Palatine pitcher struck out many of the Heights batters. In Roy Sullivan, a freshman this year, Palatine sees another star for future years. Sullivan in center field had three chances on flies and he got every one of them. The small score of the Heights is attributed to Sullivan's work in center field. Grandy made three runs and was the star of the game.

The Epworth League tendered a surprise to Rev. Stauffer last Friday evening in honor of his birthday. While the pastor was practicing with the orchestra, the self invited guests gathered at the parsonage. As Rev. Stauffer turned on the lights upon his return home, the crowd gave their greeting. "Red" Frye had charge of the games. Indoor base ball and other games were played during the evening. Dainty refreshments were served including jello, cake and coffee. There was a birthday cake. We will not say how many candles were upon it.
